

Literacy-Based Promotion Act Social Media Playbook

Introduction

This social media playbook is designed to leverage digital media channels to drive awareness and increase the reach of Mississippi's statewide K-3 literacy campaign. The toolkit includes social media best practices, a content calendar, and graphics to most effectively engage with parents in Mississippi. The information in this toolkit will help you engage with parents in Mississippi, particularly online.

Intentional repetition is key to make an impact on social media. In addition to proposed posts, this toolkit includes recommendations of key individuals, organizations, resources, hashtags, and timing that support an effective, comprehensive social media engagement strategy.

Feel free to revise, edit, and repurpose these messages and visuals to best suit your organization's needs.

SOCIAL MEDIA BEST PRACTICES

Tag key influencers Build your network of stakeholders

Leverage trending hashtags

Use engaging visuals to supplement your content

Don't forget to include a call-to-action Before implementing this social media strategy, consider this basic set of best practices to effectively leverage the materials you have and engage with your target audience: parents!

Content

When posting, the key is to maintain a consistent continual presence, publishing content at least two times per week. Content also should be short, no more than two sentences, to ensure that the audience can easily ascertain the key message and call-to-action. Whenever possible, post pictures or video. Visual posts get more interaction.

Tips for Effective Engagement

Make sure to create opportunities for interaction—whether you tag a key influencer or link to a critical resource such as Strong Readers = Strong Leaders. The content included in this playbook is primarily designed to engage parents and caregivers. Make sure to create opportunities for interaction—whether you tag a key influencer or link to a relevant resource.

In turn, leverage other social media content that is focused on early literacy. Respond directly or share it out to your networks. As a part of your social media strategy, you will want to build your network of stakeholders interested in this issue who can disseminate your posts and messages. We have created opportunities to do this across the various social media posts below.

Here is the cheat-sheet for each of the platforms recommended for highest engagement:

Instagram—an increasingly popular platform with over 500 million daily active users, 16 billion photos shared and 1 billion likes daily, this is one of your best bets for engagement with parents. Sunday posts have the highest engagement.

Facebook—the world's largest social platform with over 1 billion active monthly users. It's very likely that you have an involved parent community just waiting for your posts. Optimal times to post are Mondays-Thursdays, right before lunch or right after rush hour. Twitter–a popular microblogging platform ideal for quick updates. The key to being successful on Twitter is to post consistently. Tweets with links are 86% more likely to be retweeted, while posts with images get 2x the engagement as tweets without. It is effective to use at least one hashtag per tweet to ensure you are reaching individuals beyond your network of followers.

STATE PARTNERS/KEY INFLUENCERS

In order to increase social presence, it is critical to engage with—and rebroadcast content from—a variety of local partners invested in K-3 literacy. This helps to expand the reach of messages to other members of target audiences and can help generate momentum around the campaign.

See below for an initial list of partners across the state that are actively engaged in this issue across social media platforms—and can serve as a conduit to parents, policymakers, educators, and other key stakeholders. There are also posts in the editorial calendar that can be used to actively engage with these stakeholders.

However, monitor these accounts when possible, and when relevant, respond directly to, or re-post their content.

SOCIAL HANDLES TO LINK TO IN POSTS

In addition to key state partners, there are a collection of educators and other individuals who actively speak to K-3 literacy on Twitter—and offer significant exposure to parents across the state. See below for a list of those accounts and their handles for use in additional social media content. Make sure to follow and track these accounts, join Twitter chats, or engage with their K-3 literacy-focused content.

| Name  | Social Handle            | Rationale   |

| DeSoto Public Schools   | @DCSeNews                | Has significant reach amongeducators and parents—particularlywith a focus on literacy                 |
| Scott Waller - President and CEO ofthe Mississippi Economic Council | @ScottWallerMEC          | Has significant reach amongthe business and politicalcommunities in the state                         |
| Lt. Gov. Tate Reeves  | @TateReeves              | Significant visibility and reach throughout state, supporter of early literacy                                |

KEY HASHTAGS TO INCLUDE IN POSTS

As mentioned earlier in the playbook, hashtags serve as a useful way to reach other state and national stakeholders who may not fall within your social media networks. They also provide an entry point into relevant, issue-based conversations that one can participate in—and, in turn, engage relevant members of a target audience.

Here is a sampling of a few hashtags that are particularly salient in the state and are used on a frequent basis:

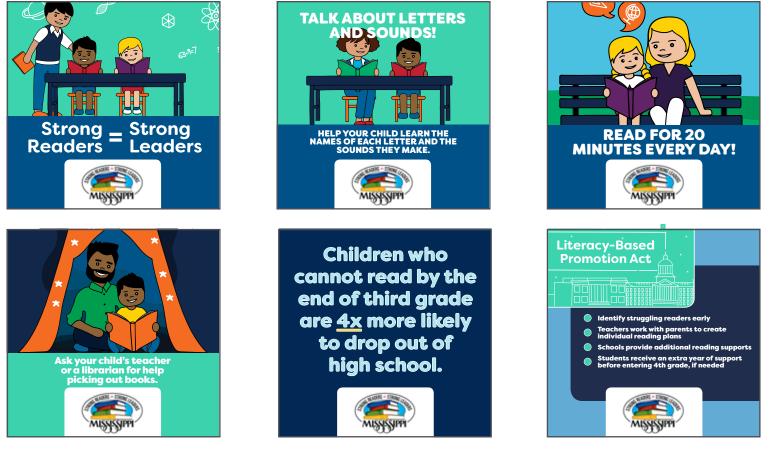

#strongreaders #msedu #MSreads #MSliteracy #MSsucceeds #teachMS #NextLevelUp To enter the national conversation and reach an even wider audience, here are hashtags that are used in K-3 literacy dialogues across the country.

#K3Reading #reading #education #readacrossamerica #educators #EarlyLiteracy #elemschool #k12 #PTchat

SOCIAL MEDIA ASSETS GRAPHICS

Linking posts to specific tools and information is an excellent way to leverage social media posts. The following digital graphics have been created for your use. Recommended use of visuals also are included in the editorial calendar.

Click on a social media graphic below to download it.

Concepts:

- Talk about letters and sounds! Help your child learn the names of each letter and the sounds they make.
- Read for 20 minutes every day!
- Ask your child's teacher or a librarian for help picking out books.
- Strong Readers = Strong Leaders

Children who cannot read by the end of third grade are 4x more likely to drop out of high school.

- Literacy-Based Promotion Act:
  - Identify struggling readers early
  - Teachers work with parents to create individual reading plans
  - Schools provide additional reading supports
  - Students receive an extra year of support before entering 4th grade, if needed

SOCIAL MEDIA CONTENT CALENDAR

This section includes a set of Instagram, Facebook, and Twitter posts to use over the summer months to maintain outreach and engagement efforts.

The content is divided across topics of the Literacy-Based Promotion Act and provides ideas for parent engagement and reading strategies. There are also messages to use around particular holidays in the summer and preparing for back-to-school.

With the additional recommendations around visuals, graphics, and other assets for use, this can serve as a roadmap to reach parents over the course of the campaign. The below calendar provides a framework that can be adjusted or built out further to meet additional needs and goals.
