

Improving the Mental Health of Mississippi's Children & Youth

Mississippi School Safety Act of 2019

In the 2019 Legislative Session, legislators passed the Mississippi School Safety Act of 2019. As a result of the legislation, the Mississippi Department of Mental Health and the Mississippi Department of Education, both of whom are a part of the Governor's school safety task force, have developed Improving the Mental Health of Mississippi's Children as a resource to help school districts comply with three components of the legislation. Those include:

Effective in the 2019-2020 school year, the Mississippi Department of Mental Health (DMH) shall develop a standardized Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) to be utilized by DMH certified providers and mental health facilities in providing mental health services to local school districts. The MOU shall include standardized screening and referral protocols, procedures, and forms to be utilized by the local school districts. DMH shall provide online training for appropriate school personnel to conduct initial behavioral health screening of students experiencing or exhibiting behavioral stress or at risk of harming themselves or others.

The Mississippi Department of Education (DoE) shall establish three pilot sites in six school districts utilizing an evidence-based curriculum to provide students in K-5 with skills to manage stress and anxiety. The Mississippi Department of Mental Health shall be responsible for the development and/or selection of the content of the training. The results of the program shall be measured and reported, and such results shall be used in consideration of statewide implementation

The comprehensive local school district safety plans, beginning in the 2019-2020 school year, shall be required to include refresher training on mental health and suicide prevention for all school employees and personnel. DMH shall be responsible for the development and/or selection of the training. Districts shall report completion of the training to the Mississippi Department of Education.

In February 2019, the Mississippi Department of Mental Health and Mississippi Department of Education were accepted as part of the Southeast Mental Health Technology Transfer Center's Learning Community (SE MHTTC). The SE MHTTC provided Mississippi with technical assistance in developing components of the standardized Memorandum of Understanding. The assistance will culminate with a training in February 2020 on the National School Mental Health Curriculum to improve understanding of the core components needed to establish comprehensive school mental health in districts in Mississippi.

Included in Improving the Mental Health of Mississippi's Children are the list of selected mental health and suicide prevention refresher trainings, mental health resources available in the state, the Memorandum of Understanding, and the School Mental Health Non-Crisis Referral form.

Improving the Mental Health of Mississippi's Children & Youth

Mental and emotional problems among youth are common and need to be addressed, just like physical problems such as asthma and diabetes. Mental and emotional problems can have a serious impact on learning and the classroom. The stigma surrounding mental health issues often keeps students, parents and teachers from coping as easily as they would physical health issues.

School staff can play several roles in the mental health of students including being an observer. As an observer, you can notice social or academic behaviors that appear inappropriate or distressing. It is important to take note of the duration, frequency and impact. Teachers are most often the first to notice these types of changes in students' behaviors.

School staff can also serve as a role model. As a role model, you can use strategies to demonstrate empathy, be encouraging and hopeful when others may be discouraged by the student's behavior. Think before speaking in frustration. Don't take it personally - separate the child's actions from the person.

Did you know?

Nearly 35,000 of Mississippi's children and youth have severe and persistent mental health needs. A significant relationship exists between adverse childhood experiences and risk of attempted suicide throughout the life span. Environmental factors such as parental unemployment, severe deprivation due to poverty, single parenthood, and regular exposure to domestic violence or abuse puts children at higher risk for the development of mental health problems, creating a ripple effect that can lead to suicide.¹⁵

The following signs may indicate a child or adolescent needs professional help:

- Decline in school performance
- Poor grades despite strong efforts
- Anxiety
- Persistent disobedience or aggression
- Persistent nightmares
- Repeated refusal to go to school or take part in normal activities
- Hyperactivity or fidgeting
- Frequent temper tantrum
- Depression, sadness, or irritability

Early identification, diagnosis and treatment can help children reach their full potential.

Suicide Prevention and Mental Health Refresher Trainings

The Mississippi School Safety Act of 2019 states that beginning in the 2019-2020 school year, the State Department of Education shall require local school districts to conduct, every two (2) years, refresher training on mental health and suicide prevention for all school employees and personnel, including all cafeteria workers, custodians, bus drivers, teachers and administrators. The Mississippi Department of Mental Health is responsible for the development and/or selection of the content of the training and schools are required to report completion of the training to the State Department of Education. Districts can select from the list of recommended courses below to meet this requirement.

I. The Alliance Project

The Alliance Project training is designed to help lay individuals to identify youth who are in distress and at risk of suicide. The training then teaches skills on how to make a connection with the youth, build rapport, and make a proper referral to a mental health professional.

VI. Classroom WISE: Well-Being Information and Strategies for Educators

Educators and school personnel play a vital role in promoting mental health and well-being and identifying and responding to emerging mental illness in children and adolescents. However, they often have not received the education, training, and/or ongoing support needed to respond in the classroom. To address this need, the Mental Health Technology Transfer Center Network, in partnership with the National Center for School Mental Health at the University of Maryland School of Medicine, developed a free self-guided online course, video library, resource collection, and a website focused on educator mental health literacy. The 3-part training package, Classroom WISE (Well-Being Information and Strategies for Educators), launched in June 2021 and was informed by and co-developed with educators from across the nation. These resources present concrete, universal approaches to promoting student mental health and creating safe and supportive classroom environments, describe student behaviors that may indicate a mental health concern, and provide specific skills and strategies to engage and support students with mental health concerns.

CMHC governing authorities are considered regional and not state-level entities. The Department of Mental Health (DMH) is responsible for certifying, monitoring, and assisting CHMCs.

Mobile Crisis Response Teams

Mobile Crisis Response Teams provide guidance and support to adults and children who are experiencing a mental health crisis. The teams work closely with law enforcement to reduce the likelihood that a person experiencing a mental health crisis is unnecessarily placed in a more restrictive environment, like jail, a holding facility, hospital, or inpatient treatment.

- Response teams are available in all 82 counties and can be accessed by calling the toll-free numbers that are answered around the clock by Licensed Therapists, Peer Support Specialists, and Community Support Specialists.
- Response teams respond wherever a person is experiencing a crisis or at a designated location, like a local hospital.
