presented by the
School of Education | Principal Corps

The Principal Corps at the University of Mississippi is offering a powerful virtual professional development opportunity: The Together Leader® – A Time and Task Management System for School Leaders Led by Maia Heyck-Merlin, nationally recognized author and founder of The Together Group

Session Details:

This virtual professional development series will be held on June 3 (1:00–3:00 PM CT) and June 10, 17, and 24 (1:00–2:30 PM CT) via Zoom.

The cost is $350 per participant, which includes:

- A copy of The Together Leader book
- Customizable digital planning templates
- Access to a class website with resources and videos
- 10 SEMI or 1 OSL credit upon completion

This PD series is directly aligned to Standard 15 of the Mississippi Administrator Growth Rubric:

"Effectively manages professional time to prioritize instructional leadership, staff collaboration, and strategic initiatives."

Through this engaging and reflective series, participants will:

- Streamline calendars and schedules to focus on instructional priorities
- Protect time for coaching, planning, and professional development
- Build habits and systems that drive sustainable, high-impact leadership
- Move from feeling overwhelmed to confidently organized

This is an excellent opportunity for principals, assistant principals, instructional coaches, and central office leaders to build systems that support long-term success.
